BEWARE, TAKE CARE—The witches will get you, if you don't watch out, when Sunday ushers in Hallowe'en. Already the spooks and goblins are holding practice sessions, in preparation for their night to howl. 'VIGIL OF SAMAN'

Hallowe'en Got Its Start From Druidic Festival

By BERT KANBARA
Ka Leo Feature Editor

That holiday two days hence which is the occasion every year for police chiefs throughout the nation to issue solemn warnings against vandalism, the reader may be interested to learn, is the result of a fusion of elements from three different cultures—the pagan Druidic, classic Roman, and Christian.

The Druidic festival forms the basis of our present-day celebration. The Druids believed that on this night, Saman, lord of death, called together the wicked spirits, while ghosts and witches wandered throughout the land. In parts of Ireland, Oct. 31 is still known as the "Vigil of Saman."

ONTO THIS Druidic base were grafted some of the characteristics of the Roman harvest festival in honor of the goddess Pomona, in which nuts and apples, representing the winter store of food, played an important part.

The Roman touch to the Druidic festival was very probably added in the course of the Roman occupation of Britain. However, the Druidic belief in witches and hobgoblins has caught the popular imagination, while the Roman influence has been relegated to the position of refreshments and decorative motifs.

ALL HALLOWS EVE, from which is derived the modern name, Hallowe'en, was established as a Christian feast in the seventh century. It precedes All Saints' Day, Nov. 1, on which all the saints are honored.

And so, come Hallowe'en, take care, but have a druid time among the hobgoblins and witches.

Jalopy Paraders To Tour Downtown After Pep Rally Motorcycle Escorts To Lead Student Cars In Stunt Before Police Benefit Game

A colorful pre-game jalopy parade is planned for UH students, following the pep rally at 12:30 at Hemenway hall Wednesday, the day of the Police Benefit game, announced Doris Obata and Ronald Poepoe, co-chairmen of pre-game activities of the spirit and rally committee.

All car owners planning to participate in the parade are requested to park their vehicles on the mauka side of Metcalf in front of Hemenway hall. In order to accommodate as many as possible who desire to join the parade, car owners are asked to offer rides to car-less students.

EDITORIAL

Tommy For Athletic Director

Eight months have passed since Dr. Francois d'Eliscu submitted his resignation as director of athletics, and still there has been no official word from the Board of Athletic Control as to who will be Dr. d'Eliscu's permanent replacement.

Recently the sports department of Ka Leo came out in favor of Coach Tommy Kaulukukui over the others who have filed applications with the BAC. The sports department's decision was not based on emotion, nor was it hasty. On the contrary, the editors of this newspaper have been rounding up all available information since mid-summer. The decision arrived at culminated several months of intensive interrogation and investigation.

We don't purport to know what the student body's opinion as a whole is. But we feel it is certainly about time the students expressed their opinions publicly on this matter.

We also feel it is about time the BAC issued an official statement, explaining to the university and to the public exactly what progress, if any, has been made toward settling the matter.

Tommy's qualifications are so well known, we don't have to dwell on them here. Tommy's request that a business manager also be appointed could not be fairer or more unselfish. Ka Leo urges Tommy's appointment as DA—and the sooner the better.

'We Must Be Ready For Any Emergency': Admiral Murray

United States must be prepared at all times for any emergency, stressed Admiral Stuart S. Murray, principal speaker at the UH Navy Day convocation Wednesday.

The Pearl Harbor Commandant pointed out that this country was not ready for the last two world wars and that it must not allow itself to be caught off guard again.

Space Question To Be Decided At Sunday Meeting

"Through hell-fire or brimstone," is the attitude taken by members of the board of governors, who will meet Sunday morning in a last desperate attempt to solve the Hemenway hall space allocation issue.

According to one member, the board is determined to settle the long-drawn issue even if the midnight oil has to be burned.

AS THE PUBLIC hearing proposal was not voted on at the last BOG meeting, campus organizations will not be able to make oral requests at the session.

The Sunday meeting will be the ninth attempt of the board, which has been meeting weekly since Sept. 23.

Frosh Oratory Contest Slated For Nov. 8 and 9

Cash prizes will be awarded the top three winners of the freshman oratorical contest to be staged Nov. 8 and 9 with finals scheduled for the 12th, under the sponsorship of the board of debate and forensics. Interested freshmen, who may speak for five minutes on any topic, are asked to register with BODF members at the ASUH office Nov. 1-5.

"AT THE PRESENT time," he continued, "the United States is the main source of supply for the world and most of the countries look to us for help. We must keep ourselves self-sufficient and strong," with a minimum of foreign aid.

The admiral also emphasized another phase of preparedness: the importance of keeping the general public informed regarding the state of affairs of the armed forces.

ON NAVY DAY, every base that is able to, opens its gates so that citizens can see what the navy has done with the tax-payers' money, he said.

Adm. Murray then gave a brief history of Navy Day and how it originated.

NAVY DAY began in 1922 through the efforts of the Navy League of the United States. Oct. 27 was chosen because it was on that day that Theodore Roosevelt, avid supporter of a strong navy, was born.

Bulletin

There will be no school Tuesday, Nov. 2, because of the general election throughout the Territory. Ka Leo will consequently greet the student body early Wednesday morning.

STUDENTS WHO have not yet replied to the notices distributed yesterday are asked to fill in the required information and place the sheets under their windshield wipers. Members of the pre-game activities committee will pick them up.

Police motorcycles will escort the motorcade led by the Ka Leo press jeep. The parade will begin from the corner of University and Metcalf and will proceed down University to Beretania where it will turn right on Beretania and continue to Alapai.

TURNING LEFT on Alapai at Hotel, the parade will proceed to Aala park. The cars will return to UH by way of Beretania.

To help carry out the green and white motif of the university, Mr. Iwao Miyake, acting athletic director, will contribute streamer paper. Since the supply of paper is limited, students are requested to "go easy," the co-chairmen noted.

ASUH PRESIDENT Warren Higa giving his "heartiest endorsement" of this event, stated, "I urge all students who possibly can to join in the parade and help make it a smashing success."

Higa added that he would like to see a packed UH section at the game Wednesday night.

"Noise makers, Frosh caps, pom poms, pennants and anything else that will add to the color of the parade should be brought along," said Barry Rubin, Junior councilman and BAC member.

As We See It...

Pacific Defense Bloc Needed

In what has been termed by the United States state department as "unbelievably barbaric," Communist inspired and Communist led insurrectionists have transformed the Republic of Korea into a state of horror and murder paralleling the Japanese rape of Nanking a decade ago.

The rebels, reportedly sanctioned by the Soviet dominated North Korean regime, have committed atrocities of the most despicable nature. They have butchered men, women, and children with reckless abandon, and the peace seeking peoples of the world are forced to sit back helplessly, shocked and stunned.

This revolt in Korea should not be passed off as being in the same class with uprisings in Latin America, for example, for the underlying motivation is far more sinister and dangerous. What has happened in Korea might soon erupt in Germany, or any place else Moscow deems "ripe."

Those who criticize the Western Union Defense Bloc as an unfriendly act toward Russia are blind to the fact that the Western powers must unite for self preservation, only because of the cold-blooded Russian attitude toward world peace.

We should not for a single moment forget the importance of Asia, moreover, to the defense of democratic nations. Therefore, an immediate peace treaty with Japan is in order, followed by a Pacific Defense Bloc to demonstrate to the Russians, once and for all, that their days of rampage must come to an end forthwith.

Spread The Word Around Town

This business of school spirit, or more correctly the lack thereof, has for a long time been very distressing at UH. No one is proud of the small turnouts at the games, just as no one is proud of the passive support accorded the teams so far as cheering and talking up the boys are concerned.

School spirit in its broader sense, however, goes much deeper than backing the teams. It includes taking genuine pride in the university as an entity. It signifies active participation in all university activities, be they academic, social, or athletic.

The job to be done here is tremendous, but by no means hopeless... if every student and faculty member is willing to do his utmost.

Coach Tommy Kaulukukui said at a recent rally, "Let's spread the word around town that we have an active student body here." In other words, Tommy was saying "It Pays to Advertise." And that's what we have to do.

We can advertise with pennants and posters, displaying the university's colors at every opportunity. And more effectively, by participating en masse in events such as the forthcoming car parade prior to the Wednesday football contest. Professors can cooperate by excusing their students if they miss class or come in late.

Let's all work together to put UH back on the map!

EXAM SHEETS ON RESERVE

For a number of years now, Dr. Charles H. Hunter, associate professor of history, has placed on file in the reserve room, copies of previous exams of his history 110 class for use by students during exam weeks.

Samples of test sheets of two more professors have recently joined Dr. Hunter's on the shelf in the reserve room. They are Dr. Harold S. Roberts' and Dr. Arthur L. Kirkpatrick's, both of the economics department.

It is no wonder that lines leading to the reserve room doubled this week and last. Students who were fortunate enough to be enrolled in history 110 and the econ classes of Dr. Roberts and Dr. Kirkpatrick took wholesale advantage of the golden opportunity.

I advocate that exam sheets be put on reserve by more profs for the benefit of the students.

The exam sheets on reserve, I believe, serve a two-fold purpose: (1) They serve as guides for students in exercising proper study methods before an exam is given; (2) They tend to eliminate the circulation of "dope sheets," if there are any, on campus.

I am informed, from a reliable source, that a number of graduate schools on the Mainland practice the system. Examination copies of from 10 to 15 years back are placed on file in the library, and practically all of the students use them.

TG's OPENING NIGHT EPISODE

Everything seemed to have gone wrong at the opening night of "The Importance of Being Earnest" in Farrington hall last Friday night.

The audience was wet after rushing into the hall from the heavy rain. Part of the cast muffed and forgot their lines. The humor of British snobbery didn't go off well.

Dr. Joel Trapido, director of the play, was in a state of frenzy backstage. After the play, he assembled the entire cast and told them in a low, gruff voice: "Go home and get a good night's sleep, all of you!" There wasn't going to be a coffee get-together that night.

Then, Dr. Trapido got in his car. He wanted to go home, too, and sleep off the "nightmare." But the nightmare wasn't through yet. His car wouldn't start! The battery was dead.

Phil Wax and Tom Lewis of the cast came to the rescue. They got behind and started pushing—in the rain.

Quipped Lewis to the driver after the car finally got started: "Isn't this a perfect end for a delightful evening?"

Dr. Trapido had no comment. He left for home quietly.

ON THE MERRY GO ROUND

The forthcoming debate between the Hawaii Union and the Associated Women Students is now in the dark. It seems that the men's forensic club is primed for the affair, but the AWS is not.

In response to a plea from the AWS, I am sending out a call to all the coeds to come to the aid of the women's club. Pearl Luning or Harriet Yamahira are the AWS officials to contact. Hurry it up, girls, for until some women orators are discovered, the time and place of the debate remains a question mark.

'A LITTLE DISCONCERTING'

EDITOR KA LEO:

Your attention is invited to Ronald Chee's report (Ka Leo, Tuesday, Oct. 12) of my analysis of the Negro in Hawaii, the latter appearing in last August's issue of the American Sociological Review. Several quotations given out of context have made an erroneous impression on some readers. From the headline one gathers that the Negro has found Hawaii "free of prejudice." This is utterly false and misleading.

Not "hundreds of Negroes" but nearly 30,000 of them were in Hawaii during the war. The result was not ambiguously "trouble" but a multiplicity of specific unadjustments. Of the 3500 Negroes here now, about 3000 of them are transient and are composed of personnel in the armed forces and defense work.

After spending several years studying this group, it is a little disconcerting to see the report handled with such inaccuracy. To save his time Mr. Chee asked me what I had written; he may have been more accurate had he read the article.

—LLOYD L. LEE
Research Ass't

(It is more than a little disconcerting to the editors of Ka Leo to have to acknowledge Mr. Chee's spotty reporting. The editors take it for granted that reporters submit accurate accounts of their assignments, for it is humanly impossible for every fact and detail to be rechecked at this office, and still meet rigid deadlines. Ka Leo apologizes to Mr. Lee and to all others who were disturbed by the errors. Mr. Chee is no longer with this newspaper; he is currently, a correspondent for the Star-Bulletin.—Ed.)

'RED' RAINBOW OVER THE ISLAND?

EDITOR KA LEO:

Should a statehood investigation committee ask, "What is that Red rainbow doing over the Island?" what could the students of the University of Hawaii say to put them at ease? Can we answer with a clear conscience what we know? Can we point to an effective record of activity against Communist-inclined pressure groups on this campus? Most of all, have we had the courage of our convictions and challenged in any way the "We're always progressive" group that is a menace to our liberty, homes, and friends?

The answer need not be "No." Now is the time to act! As students and Americans we have as much right to play up our own Civil Liberties as any radical group on campus does. Turn out now to committee meetings and be the last to leave. Let's polish up on parliamentary rules and take a more active part in our own affairs.

Another thing, let's turn out at the coming speech contests and speak of the things America does and not of the things the Communists would like to do.

Poll Shows Longer Lunch Period Needed

By Ka Leo Feature Staff

Since the question of a longer lunch period was aired in this newspaper a few days ago, a lot of talk about it has been going on around campus. Ka Leo inquiring reporters went out to make a record of some of this discussion.

The question asked was, "Would you be in favor of the lunch period being extended twenty minutes with the time made up by classes beginning 10 minutes earlier in the morning and ending 10 minutes later in the afternoon?" The answers received left little room for doubt.

Joyce Kishinami, a&s freshman—I'm in favor of having the lunch period extended so that we can have more time for activities and have extra time to meet other students.

Richard Tom, applied science junior—Makes no difference to me. They can extend the lunch period two hours.

Dr. Jessie Steiner, visiting professor of sociology—I have an 11:30 class myself so I know how long the lines are at the cafeteria after the class and how fast one has to eat to reach the next class in time. I certainly am in favor of extending the lunch period.

Albert Evensen, a&s senior—I think it would be a good idea because it would give the ASUH more time to put on activity programs each day without interfering with the students' lunch time.

Dr. Shunzo Sakamaki, associate professor of history—Sure I'm in favor of it if the students want it. I don't mind getting up a few minutes earlier.

Grace Sera, a&s sophomore—I don't mind getting up earlier. I think it's grand. It takes quite a while for us music students to walk over from the music building to the cafeteria.

Dr. William Neumann, associate professor of history—I eat at home and like it. If it will help the students though, I'm for it. You can quote me.

Sadako Isobe, a&s senior—My schedule is so full that I never have any time to relax. This will be a real break for me if it goes through.

TEA FOR 11

HISTORY REPEATS

(Oct. 26, 1940) More than 500 men students at the university are between the ages of 21 and 35, and consequently must register today for the draft. Thirteen men have been exempted because they are in advanced ROTC courses.

A Change in the Wind:

When I begin saying, "I used to be a sports editor myself," Robert Eric Bjorn will be handling that difficult position for Ka Leo.

Versatile Bob is a war veteran from Ohio, where he attended Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State universities. At Wesleyan, he studied for the ministry for two years but women changed his mind.

Meanwhile, he improved his long drives in the golf links and turned pro in 1944. Bob, who likes to mix pleasure with business, also became a "Dance Demonstrator."

He will be glad to instruct any student in the fundamentals of golf and dancing. Of course, he will have to charge a fee—his professional status, you know.

And that's not all; he was a senior fire crew chief at Hickam field, which makes him a fireman.

Aiwohi's Gridders Encounter Hickam Bombers Tomorrow

With little knowledge of their opponent's strength, Coach Francis Aiwohi's Frosh gridders will tackle the Hickam Bombers on their home grounds, tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Jimmy Asato, hard running back formerly with the Leilehua eleven, is slated to provide the ground gaining power from the left half slot, while scrappy Francis Shon is the right half in the starting lineup.

MEMBER OF the 1947 championship McKinley high team, Cliff Matsusaka will start at quarter, and solid Albert Hirai will fill in the fullback position.

Other backs expected to see plenty of action are high-scoring Hugh Johnson and shifty Buddy Soares. Quarterback Don Coelho and fullback George Mamiya will also be used to good advantage.

* * *

THE STARTING line will comprise Bill Blaisdell, center; Toshi Kaneshiro and Larry Mehau, guards; Dewey Mookini and Mel Alencastre, tackles; and John Collins and Leonard Peresa, ends.

In addition, the national AAU has given its official approval of the series, it was also disclosed.

Student tickets, limited to 400 for Tuesday night, went on sale this morning in Hemenway hall.

* * *

THE REMAINING games in the series will be played at Civic auditorium as scheduled, with reduced cost to the university, the announcement said.

Only 400 student tickets are available for the game at the gym because of reduced seating capacity, the athletic office said, and students wishing to attend must pick up their ducats as soon as possible.

Seniors vs Frosh In Initial Grid Tilt

Interclass touch football will make its debut Tuesday, Nov. 9, when the highly-touted Seniors clash with the lowly Frosh in the initial game, 12:30 p.m. at Cooke field. The Juniors will open against the Sophs a week later.

All class managers have been asked to organize their teams and turn in their roster to Joe Okumoto, Intramural football manager, or Claude Takekawa, Intramural director, by next Wednesday.

Never The Trophies Shall Meet?

HOMELESS TROPHIES—University teams and ROTC units have been awarded many trophies and plaques during the past years, but not many on campus realize it for they are scattered in the four corners of the university. Ka Leo's roving photographer made an extensive tour to bring back the above photographic evidence. At the top left are UH swim team awards; at bottom left ROTC trophies. Football and basketball trophies are at top and bottom right, while sandwiched in between them is the logical spot for a permanent trophy case, behind the counter in the new wing of Hemenway hall. VINE TRANSPLANTED IN HAWAII

Ex-Bandleader And Tenor Here As Music Professor

By HELEN KIMURA
Ka Leo Staff Reporter

Serious music scholar, one-time bandleader on a French luxury liner, operatic tenor and now assistant professor of music here is Richard W. Vine, who arrived a month ago to join the staff of the rapidly growing music department.

Impressed by the zeal of the students, Professor Vine commented, "I noticed at once the favorable attitude that the students take toward their work and also the friendly spirit that prevails on campus."

MR. VINE, who once sang with the New Jersey opera association, is director of the university chorus and teaches voice and harmony.

From an early age, he and music kept close harmony and while at college, the personable young tenor organized his own orchestra which played on one-night stands throughout the midwestern states.

AFTER COLLEGE he took a job with his orchestra on the French luxury liner Champlain.

Mr. Vine attended Rochester junior college and received his bachelor's degree from St. Olaf college in 1936, and his master's degree from MacPhail college of music in 1938. He has also studied at the University of Minnesota and Rutgers university.

RICHARD W. VINE

PROFESSOR VINE is married and has two children. "Both my wife and I think the Islands are lovely," he remarked, "and we enjoy being here very much."
